
Robert E. Carson
1904-971

The late University of Florida professor, Dr. Robert Carson, Professor of Humanities at UF for 25 years, was born in Jamestown, New York. In his youth, he worked as a professional musician, playing in dance orchestras, theaters, hotels and for a brief time in vaudeville.

Carson was a self-taught artist, beginning in watercolors at the age of 34. He progressed to experiments with a variety of media including oils, collage, graphite, charcoal and pen and ink.

In 1965-66 he produced a series of illustrations for Gordon E. Bigelow's "Frontier Eden: The Literary Career of Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings." From 1968 until 1970, Carson and his wife, Estelle, were in charge of the Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings House at Cross Creek.
